

APPLICATION FOR PRECEPTOR POSITION IN MATHEMATICS

We seek Mathematicians to work with the rank of Preceptor alongside other Harvard faculty on teaching, developing, and supporting sections of entry-level courses through Multivariable Calculus and Linear Algebra. Applicants must have a strong background in advanced mathematics, preferably including a Ph.D., as well as sophistication about undergraduate teaching, learning, and curricular issues generally. Candidates should present evidence of outstanding classroom success, together with training, assessment, and organizational skills. Responsibility, initiative, good judgment, and the ability to work well on a team are required. This position entails both significant administrative responsibilities, such as developing and participating in pedagogical mentoring and research programs, as well as significant career development opportunities for mathematicians following less traditional career paths.

Please submit this application form along with the following information to: Preceptor Position,
Department of Mathematics, Harvard University, One Oxford Street, Cambridge, MA 02138 Fax: (617) 495-5132

- This application form
- Three letters of recommendation: At least one letter must discuss the applicant's experience with teaching, administration skills, and other educational work. You should arrange to have all of these letters sent to us under separate cover
- Curriculum Vitae
- A cover letter that discusses how this position would fit into your career trajectory
- A teaching portfolio

Preferences will be given to applications received before December 8, 2006. The appointments are normally three years with a starting salary of approximately $51,700 for the academic year. This salary can sometimes be augmented by teaching during the summer and evenings. The teaching commitment is two courses per semester, usually calculus.

Harvard University is an equal opportunity employer. Harvard does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, age, religion, ancestry, national origin, sexual orientation, disability, or status as disabled or Vietnam era veteran.

In order to comply with federally mandated equal opportunity hiring practices, we are required to obtain demographic information from all applicants to faculty positions. We are therefore writing to you to ask that you help us with this process by providing information through the self-identification website http://www.fas.harvard.edu/~acadaff/self\_id/self\_id.html. Please take a moment to click on the link and complete the brief survey.

Submission of demographic information through this form is completely voluntary and the information you provide will be kept strictly confidential. All racial/ethnic information will be gathered and maintained in the Office for Academic Affairs, a location separate from the department and all applicant records. Information on applicant pools will be available to departments only in aggregate form. Your decision to participate (or not) will in no way affect the evaluation of your application now or in the future. Your cooperation is much appreciated.

As an equal opportunity employer, Harvard complies with all relevant government regulations and affirmative action responsibilities.
